

Masculino y Femenino en el Archipiélago Nombre de tu isla: _____
 Ganas: 3 joyas

Usually in Spanish if a word ends in “o” it is masculine (boy) and uses el in front of it.
 El means “the”...Ejemplo: El coco, the coconut

If a word ends in “a” it is feminine (girl) and uses la in front of it.
 La means “the” Ejemplo: La pescadora, the fisherwoman

There are some words that break this pattern (El día, the day, El planeta, the planet, La mano, the hand) or end in a letter other than o/a...you just have to memorize those.

¿El o la?	sustantivo	What does it mean in English?
	canoa
	lancha rápida
	balsa arquitecta
	hamaca
	edificio
	balde de agua
	pronóstico del tiempo
	terremoto
	lluvia
	joya
	libro pintura
	médico

Masculino y Femenino en el Archipiélago

Nombre de tu isla: _____

Ganas: 3 joyas

Usually in Spanish if a word ends in “os” it is masculine plural (boys) and uses los in front of it.

Los means “the”...Ejemplo: Los libros, the books

Usually if a word ends in “a” it is feminine plural (girls) and uses las in front of it.

Las means “the” Ejemplo: Las casas, the houses

There are some words that break this pattern (Los días, the days, Los planetas, the planets, Las manos, the hands) or end in a letter other than o/a...you just have to memorize those.

¿Los o las?	sustantivo	What does it mean in English?
	marineros
	restaurantes
	colegios
	bibliotecas
	juzgados
	estadios
	maestras
	islas
	pescados
	arenas movedizas
	semillas
	tesoros
	cocineros
	carpinteros
	plomeras

